

Home care services are supports you can get to help with daily life. They include things like personal care for you in your home. When we say home care services, we mean services funded by the Department of Health and Aged Care system .

You must leave the NDIS if you start getting home care services permanently for the first time after you turn 65. You can't ask for an internal review. This is because the law says you must leave the NDIS when this occurs, without us needing to make a reviewable decision.

Home care services can be different from NDIS supports. Find out more about home care services on the Department of Health and Aged Care website .

Example

Kirsty just turned 65 and is an NDIS participant. She uses NDIS support to fund 10 hours a week of personal care.

Since she turned 65, she's now eligible for home care services with aged care funding. She must decide if she'll start using these aged care services.

If she starts getting home care services with aged care funding permanently, she must leave the NDIS.

She can keep getting NDIS supports until she permanently gets aged care home care services or moves into residential aged care permanently.
